Equality Impact Assessment – UKRI Policy Fellowships 2023

UK Research and Innovation (UKRI) is committed to promoting equality and participation in all its activities, whether this is related to the work we do with our external stakeholders or whether this is related to our responsibilities as an employer. As a public body, we are also required to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity, and foster good relations when making decisions and developing policies. To do this, it is necessary to understand the potential impacts of the range of internal and external activities on different groups of people.

What is an Equality Impact Assessment and why does UKRI use it?

When developing a new scheme, or considering changes to an existing one, UKRI will carry out an equality impact assessment to review how it may affect particular groups or individuals and will take the findings into account. We expect that very rarely our actions will create barriers to participation. The assessment may however flag issues that are not of UKRI's making but we will, where it is in our remit to do so, recommend actions and adjustments. Some impacts are not exclusive to the scheme or change that is being evaluated and need to be addressed throughout our organisation. In some cases we may not have enough expertise and we will consult with others.

Our leadership and building on good practice

It is our ambition to be recognised as a leader in Equality, Diversity and Inclusion and to build on our record of achievements to date, following on from the RCUK, Innovate UK and HEFCE Action Plans. These Plans are updated from time to time and Equality Impact Assessments will help us to prioritise actions.

Current good practice that is relevant to the UKRI Policy Fellowships 2023 includes our:

- Grant terms and conditions, including recognition for sick leave and all forms of parental leave
- EDI in Panel Meetings Guidance for all panel members.

There are multiple dimensions/aspects to this Equality Impact Assessment:

- 1) Ensuring that the eligibility criteria are clear and objectively justified
- 2) Ensuring that the submission, peer review and awarding processes are free from unintentional bias
- 3) The identification of any potential barriers to attendance and participation in the call and the assessment and awarding process as below
 - a. Meeting duration Appropriate duration to facilitate good environmental conditions for assessment and inclusion
 - b. Venue location and arrangements to accommodate needs
 - c. Broad ranging panel membership
 - d. Meeting management/Chair/robust assessment criteria

2.	Summary of aims and objectives of the policy/funding activity/event	Applicants are invited to apply for funding to undertake a policy fellowship for 18 months to: - be embedded in a UK or devolved government host organisation or What Works Network member, affiliate member or associate member - collaborate on research activity to address pressing national and global challenges The UKRI Policy Fellowship scheme offers an exciting opportunity to develop your career and enhance your understanding of applying research in government contexts.
3.	What involvement and consultation has been done in relation to this policy? (e.g. with relevant groups and stakeholders)	Lessons learned exercise on commissioning processes and structures Survey from previous 2021 call panel members, government hosts and fellows Evaluation surveys and one-to-one feedback sessions with current fellows. Consultation has resulted in modifications to fellowship structures, commissioning processes including interview, budget, timeline, co-funding, training requirements and funding call documents for the 2023 funding opportunity.
4.	Who is affected by the policy/funding activity/event?	Applicants to the call: This opportunity will be open to applicants with a PhD or equivalent research experience and there are opportunities for applicants at all career stages. Commissioning Panel Members for the call: Proposals will be assessed by a panel of academic and non-academic experts. UKRI staff involved in the commissioning process and attending the panel meeting(s) for the call. Scheme partners involved in the commissioning and delivery process, and hosting policy fellows.
5.	What are the arrangements for monitoring and reviewing the actual impact of the policy/funding activity/event?	Monitoring applicant demographic characteristics via Siebel reporting where data available Evaluation surveys of impact of cohort of fellows, to influence future commissioning and investment management approaches.

UKRI's research commissioning processes are designed with fairness in mind.

Eligibility and criteria

- UKRI Policy Fellowships 2023 is open to all eligible research organisations (RO).
 Applicants are eligible for funding whether or not they are established members of a recognised RO, but applicants who are not an established member of a recognised RO must be accommodated by the RO and provided with appropriate facilities to carry out the fellowship.
 - Applicants must:
 - be based at an organisation eligible for UK Research and Innovation (UKRI) funding
 - have a PhD or equivalent experience
 - depending on the fellowship, be either a researcher in the economic and social sciences, the arts and humanities or in the biotechnology and biological sciences - have relevant skills and expertise that meet the criteria for the Fellowship they are applying for

Through collaboration with funding councils and fellowship hosts, we have expanded the range of eligible disciplinary expertise and career stages for applicants. Early career applicants are required and supported to secure mentorship support within their institution.

UKRI plans to include following text in Who can Apply call text:

Equality & Diversity

UKRI welcomes applications from all sections of the community, in accordance with the Equality Act.

We are committed to supporting the research community in the diverse ways a career can be built with our investments including:

career breaks

support for people with caring responsibilities flexible working

alternative working patterns

We encourage applicants to read our equality, diversity and inclusion strategy.

Standard Grant Terms and Conditions:

- UKRI standard Grant Terms and Conditions comply with UK equality legislation and include provisions designed to mitigate against potential negative impacts (e.g. sick pay, parental and adoption leave, the possibility of part-time and flexible working, and grant extensions).
- Research Organisations are subject to equality legislation and have a duty to comply with it. RGC 8 states that 'The Research Organisation must assume full responsibility for staff funded from the grant and, in consequence, accept all duties owed to and responsibilities for these staff, including, without limitation, their terms and conditions of employment and their training and supervision, arising from the employer/employee relationship.' Universities are therefore required to make reasonable adjustments as required to support their staff.
- In addition to compliance with UKRI standard terms and conditions, applicants will have a secondment agreement with the Host Government department that will be compatible with UKRI terms and conditions. This agreement sets out key support arrangements with regard to working arrangements, induction processes, and line management for fellows. The document has been developed in consultation with UKRI Legal, Cabinet Office Secondments Unit and university partners. The exemplar documents will be published with the funding call for applicants' information.

Panel recruitment:

- We will aim to ensure that the composition of the commissioning panel is diverse
- We will ensure (if possible) that the chair and vice chair of the commissioning panel are not the same gender.
- Whilst panel members are appointed, first and foremost, based on expertise, we will aim to appoint a diverse panel membership. Final decisions take into account trying to balance the panels by gender and geography and seek to ensure a diversity of career stage and institutions. We will only make recruitment decisions which compromise diversity when it is objectively justified by the necessity to ensure the required breadth of subject expertise with high quality candidates.
- A tool has been developed which allows UKRI staff to assess the EDI characteristics of commissioning panels, and this will be used when appointing panels.
- We will utilise existing links with academic networks to share opportunities which focus on membership with shared protected characteristics.

Process

- All panel members will receive guidance which covers issues including fairness, objectivity and unconscious bias.
- It is the role of panel members to moderate and assess the quality of peer review and to agree final scores for each proposal. Panel members will be briefed on unconscious bias and encouraged to feel empowered to constructively challenge potential bias where they identify it. The Panel Chairs and Panel Secretaries play a particularly important role in this respect. An implementation intention statement will be read out at the beginning of the commissioning panel meeting which sets the tone for discussions and requires that panel members pay close attention to the scoring criteria and definitions.
- UKRI have delegated interview stage to fellowship host partners for this call due to resourcing constraints. UKRI will request confirmation from partners of processes & policies, such as those regarding interview panel representation, scheduling and reasonable adjustments.

Other characteristics not protected under the Equality Act	Potential negative. UKRI is committed to go above and beyond bare compliance with Equalities legislation to ensure that our processes are as fair and equitable as they can be. For instance, we wish to ensure that potential applicants and stakeholder s are not disadvanta ged by geography, institutional status etc.		ROs need to be clear of their responsibilities. The Research funding guide states: 'The Research Organisation is responsible for compliance with the terms of the Equality Act 2010 including any subsequent amendments introduced while work is in progress; and for ensuring that the expectations set out in the RCUK statement of expectations for equality and diversity are met'. Call specifications should draw attention to UKRI's aspirations around ED&I. Applicants should be alerted to the fact that if they wish to participate in a UKRI-led activity but find that they are barred from doing so as a consequence of ED&I considerations they should contact the office for advice. We work to ensure that panels are balanced as far as possible (within the constraints of quality and appropriateness) across the range of protected characteristics, and across broader characteristics, and across broader characteristics including participation from post-1992 and Russell Group institutions, ensuring that we have a good geographical spread of panel members across the four nations of the UK, and across a diversity of career stages and paths. Virtual participation will be encouraged to minimise barriers due to geographic location Fellowship budgets includes flexible allocations to support additional travel & subsistence,
