UKRI Artificial Intelligence Centres for Doctoral Training

Full proposal stage webinar
19 May 2023
Welcome

Webinar information

• Submit questions through the Zoom Q&A function
• Questions will be answered at the end of the presentation
• After webinar email proposal specific questions to ai.cdt@ukri.org
• The webinar slides and answers to questions will be published on the funding opportunity page
• Full details are on the funding opportunity page (UKRI Centres for Doctoral Training in artificial intelligence – UKRI)

Call scope

Remit

• Proposals in any relevant area of UKRI’s remit are welcome, \textit{interdisciplinary proposals} are particularly welcome
• Proposals must focus on the \textit{applications and implications} of novel and existing \textit{AI technologies}
• CDT graduates should have a \textit{sufficient knowledge of AI} and the chosen priority area such that they will be able to \textit{develop and apply novel AI techniques} within that area, discipline or sector.

The national need for 50 students or more in the area of the CDT should be explained and where possible evidence provided.

The AI components of the CDT, including the training in the applications and implications of AI, should be clear and researchers with appropriate expertise should be involved in the direction and management of the centre.

It should be clearly articulated why a CDT is the appropriate training model in the research area proposed.

The approach to building and maintaining the cohort throughout the lifetime of the CDT should be clearly described.
Outline panel feedback (2)

- Details of the availability of appropriate data sets and computational resource should be provided where relevant.

- If the CDT relates to the Responsible and trustworthy AI priority area applicants should describe their understanding of the area and which areas they will provide training to students in.

- The roles and responsibilities of each member of the management team and/or named investigator should be described.

- Details of administration support should be included, whether it is requested from UKRI or is part of the host organisations’ contribution.

- Arrangements for IP between host organisations and project partners should be considered.
Individual eligibility

• The PI must be from the lead organisation and satisfy standard EPSRC eligibility criteria
• PI and co-Is must be from eligible UK organisation - expect no more than 10 named investigators
• Welcome as co-Is those who are integral to developing the bid including:
  • professional research and investment strategy managers
  • research technical professionals and research software engineers
• Consider the diversity of the leadership team
  • Team based leadership models
  • Career development of those involved in CDT
Eligible costs

- Studentship costs (fees, stipends and appropriate research training support)
  - Base on current 2023/24 rates (including stipends)
  - Justified stipend enhancement
    - area of training and UK skills need
    - Location of student e.g. London weighting
- UKRI funded CDT students must have minimum 50% UKRI support
- Centre delivery, coordination and management (not supervision)
- Start-up costs for new centres only

(See Supplementary information)
Sub-contracting training provision

- Not expected that individual centres create bespoke training courses if access to appropriate courses is available through other providers
- May also be opportunities for funded centres to collaborate in designing training courses which are accessible across multiple CDTs
- Funding for students to attend such courses should be included in applications

- Alan Turing Institute running two virtual skills sessions to capture the training and skills needs of the CDTs to optimise the Turing’s skills offer.
  - Tuesday 6 June 14:00 – 16:00 and Wednesday 7 June 10:00 – 12:00
  - email Harriet McCann (hmccann@turing.ac.uk) if you would like to attend
Partnerships and leverage

- No minimum leverage requirement has been set
  - both cash and in-kind support from non-UKRI sources is strongly expected
- Appropriate user co-creation, contributions and engagement
- Include stakeholder and user engagement plan
- Sign up to Meeting Mojo
Host organisation leverage

- Calculate value based on current rates, inflation should not be accounted for.
- Estate and Indirect costs of the HEIs/institutes can be considered as a contribution.
  - All organisations will incur similar levels of these costs,
    - Should not be included in the supplementary information table.
    - Should be stated in the host organisational statement.
  - Studentships funded directly by the university, not by other sources (e.g. UKRI DTP) considered as cash contributions.
    - Studentships funded from a source of funding which is not reliant upon the CDT are not considered as an in-kind contribution (these are aligned students)
How to apply – full proposal stage

- Deadline: 13 July 2023, 4.00pm
- One Je-S application per CDT proposal
- Documentation includes:
  - Je-S form
  - Cover letter (1 page)
  - Case for support (10 pages)
  - EDI strategy (2 pages)
  - Approach to responsible AI (1 page)
  - Supplementary information form (1 page using template provided)
  - Excel copy to be emailed to ai.cdts@ukri.org by 14 July 2023 at 4.00pm (24 hours after call deadline)
  - Justification of resources (2 pages)
  - Host organisation(s) statement(s) (3 pages, 1 per applicant organisation)
  - Project partner statement(s) of support (2 pages, 1 per partner)
  - Facilities technical assessment (optional)

Changes from outline to full proposal

- Full case should be developed based on the successful outline proposal and any relevant feedback.
- Changes which enhance the proposal while keeping it within the original centre scope described in the outline proposal are permitted.
- UKRI will not limit any changes to costs between outline and full proposal stage to 10%, however applicants may be asked for justification if the change in costs exceeds this.
- May add co-investigators between outline a full proposal stage where they will add value to the CDT.
- Additional project partners may be added between outline and full proposal stages.
  - UKRI strongly encourages applicants to participate in the Meeting Mojo set up to facilitate engagement between proposed CDTs and potential partners.
- There should not be other substantive changes from the centre described at the outline stage.
Full proposal assessment criteria (1)

Full proposals will be assessed against the following criteria which are equally weighted:

Quality of the student training experience
This includes the approach to:
- developing and maintaining the cohort-based training approach, and the benefits derived
- the assessable programme of coursework, including catering to students from different disciplines or sectors, and embedding multidisciplinary ways of working
- responsible research and innovation training
- support for the personal and professional development of students for a diverse range of future careers, including multidisciplinary

Research training environment
This includes:
- critical mass of research activity related to the scope of the centre, including a critical mass of doctoral supervisors and supervisory teams
- track record of applicant team and an appropriate balance of research expertise and engagement of supervisors
- access to appropriate research facilities
- partnerships and plans for engagement and collaboration with wider stakeholders, including end users
Added value
This includes:

- vision and effectiveness of the CDT to develop skilled people in identified priority areas
- contribution of the CDT to enhancing UK skills capability and meeting the future needs for the research and innovation workforce, including to address relevant strategies regionally or nationally
- how the centre will act to fulfil a leadership role, convening relevant stakeholders and engaging within the research and innovation landscape to maximise its impact

Inclusive research culture
This includes the approach to:

- creating a positive research culture through recognising a diversity of talents, skills, and outputs, and embracing team science as the way of working
- equality, diversity and inclusion, for all those involved in the CDT (for example students, management, supervisors, partners) and in key areas such as recruitment and progression
- student supervision, mentoring and wellbeing
- career development of all staff involved in the CDT, including centre management and student supervisors, both academic and industrial
Resources and management
This includes:

- ability of the team to lead and manage a large, complex investment including strategic planning, organisation and operational support to ensure effective running of the centre
- effectiveness of the management strategy to support student training across a broad range of environments, topics or both, monitor student progress and performance, and link to the institution’s governance and quality assurance procedures
- quality of the plans for the independent advisory structure(s) and the effectiveness of their role(s) in overseeing and advising the centre, and supporting the management team to adapt the CDT as needed in a changing research landscape
- value for money of UKRI investment, and plans for generating additional leverage from a variety of stakeholders
- approach to continued monitoring of performance of the CDT, including gathering feedback and identifying ways to strengthen performance against key indicators of success
